Why waterproofing?

So much of your life happens within the walls of your home. You want to protect those memories, not to mention your financial investment.

In addition to making your basement less useful, wet basements contribute to:

Bacteria - a wet basement is a breeding ground for potentially harmful bacteria which can cause disease and infection throughout your home.

Mold - the most common health hazard from a moist environment, mold spores cause a variety of illnesses from respiratory problems to eye infections.

Bad smells - in addition to the smells caused by bacteria and mold, wet basements frequently create musty smells that can spread throughout your home.

Structural damage - water in your basement can deteriorate your home's foundation, not to mention ruining furniture, carpet, and wallboards in finished basements.

Radon - a common way for radon to enter your home is when groundwater, which contains radon, seeps through concrete or poorly-sealed water drainage systems.

Preventing those issues makes a compelling case for a properly-designed and installed waterproofing system, but what about the cost?

While costs vary according to the size and type of basement in your home, it's estimated that a basement waterproofing system has a return on investment of 30%.

Why Rx Waterproofing?
